Thanks!

Dear Sir / Dear Madam,

The Department of Biomedical Sciences of the Institute of Tropical Medicine of Antwerp, Belgium (ITM) and the Department of Veterinary Tropical Diseases of the University of Pretoria, South-Africa (UP) have the honour to inform you that: registration for the collaborative “MSc in Global One Health: diseases at the human-animal interface or MSCGOH” is open.

The MSCGOH will be offered as a 2-year blended programme (mainly web-based with optional face-to-face parts) and is designed to allow participants to combine work and study (partially done from your home). It contains the following components: a compulsory field workshop, 4 compulsory online core modules, advanced modules that you can choose (to support your specific career path) and a dissertation.

Timeline: 01/02/2025 - 31/12/2026

For additional info, admission requirements and registration: <https://www.itg.be/en/study/courses/msc-in-global-one-health-diseases-at-the-human-animal-interface>

Registration deadline: 22/05/2024

DGD Scholarships: detailed info: <https://www.itg.be/en/study/scholarships-to-study-at-itm>

With the financial support of the Belgian Directorate-General for Development Cooperation (DGD), the Institute of Tropical Medicine is able to offer scholarships to applicants from developing countries. You can apply for the DGD scholarship, whilst applying for the course.

The admission requirements of the DGD scholarships:

- Admission to the course
- You're less than 46 years old at the end of the course or at graduation
- Citizens from any LMIC can apply. Applicants need to be both citizen of and actually living in a LMIC as defined in the OECD-DAC list of LMICs. A majority of scholarships, but not all, will be awarded to citizens from the countries defined as priority countries for DGD. The DGD priority country list includes: Benin, Bolivia, Burkina-Faso, Burundi, Cambodia, Cameroon, Cuba, DRC, Ecuador, Ethiopia, Guinea, Haiti, Indonesia, Kenya, Madagascar, Morocco, Mozambique, Nepal, Niger, Peru, Philippines, Rwanda, Senegal, South-Africa, Tanzania, Tunisia, Uganda, Vietnam, Zimbabwe.

Kind regards
