Dear Colleagues,

The Department of Entrepreneurship and Innovative Development of the City of Moscow is organizing the International Hackathon of the Mayor of Moscow — "Leaders of Digital Transformation 2025": <https://i.moscow/lct/en>.

This hackathon is a large-scale international competition in the field of IT and digital technologies. Participation in the project offers students and young professionals the following opportunities:

- to win a cash prize of up to $12,000,
- to receive internship and job offers from leading technology companies,
- to develop digital and engineering skills,
- to work on real-world challenges from international companies and government agencies,
- and to join a global community of IT and digital transformation specialists.

! Participation is possible fully online, in teams of 2 to 5 people. Participation is free of charge.

Applications are accepted until September 18th. Register via the link and join the LDT chat to ensure you don't miss out on the most important opportunities!

We kindly ask you to consider sharing information about the Hackathon through your institution's communication channels — such as your official website, newsletters, or social media accounts. Additional materials and suggested text for publication are attached.

Thank you for your attention, and we look forward to potential collaboration!

Sincerely,
Organizing Committee of the International Hackathon
